Fandom/Çift: ALIAS

Konu: An essay about Irina written for Operation Alias.

---

Derevkos are the family that we all want to be a part of.

But one of them is a woman that we could kill to be a daughter of.

Irina Derevko.

One of the sexiest, smartest, and most beautiful mommies out there. She has the guts, she has the wits, and like River, she can kill you with her brain. And you'd be glad if she only kills you with her brain.

Cause trust me, she knows many different ways.

If you don't trust me, ask Jack, her ex-husband.

Actually, still her husband.

They met in college, fell in love, got married, and made a kid together. But then, Jack learned that he was living a lie. At least a fabricated life. Laura wasn't her wife, she was just a cover, blew up by KGB.

That is the point where we met our mommy, Irina.

She deceived Jack for years, she left her family, and she became "The Man". We always thought -at least writers wanted us to thought- that Irina was a liar, she could do ANYTHING to get to her aim (which is true, but it depends), and she can even kill her own daughters.

For Rambaldi.

Rambaldi is the secret word of Irina. (well, I'd like you to remember the box with 'Irina', and Eirina=Peace, Irina=Peacemaker)

How can a Peacemaker can cause all of these troubles? How can she kill Sydney, how can she make Nadia suffer?

In the end of all plots, we found out (even if the characters couldn't) that Irina made whatever she did for the greater good. She killed someone looking good? We found out that he was a bad guy. She hacked the systems? We found out that she used it to find something bad. She deceived her family again? We found out that she left the key back to them without them asking her to do it.

And her heart. You can't say that she doesn't loves Jack still. You just can't say it.

You can not stop me about talking how Irina is good, how she loves Sydney and Jack, and in the end, the three of them will be together, cause I'm a hardcore fan about this. They'll end up together, or I'll kill someone. And I can, cause I learned from the best. :)

The main thing we learned from Irina is that in the end, we'll all get our answers, even if they're good or bad.

And if you watched Alias, you should know something like you know your name.
